- 300 Tim Fowler, William Hogarth, 2019, mixed media on paper, signed, framed size 105cm x 105cm.
On view in situ at New Walk Museum & Art Gallery, Leicester.
To be offered, without fees, on behalf of the City of Leicester Museums Trust (COLMT) in support of the 'Save the Hogarth' campaign. This highly distinctive portrait of William Hogarth has been commissioned by COLMT from one of Leicester's leading contemporary artists Tim Fowler. All proceeds generated from the sale of this work will be going to the campaign to save one of Hogarth's most significant conversation family portraits painted in 1730, 'The Wollaston Family'. The COLMT are in a unique position to acquire 'The Wollaston Family' for the city's permanent Collection, having had the work on loan for the last 75 years hanging in the New Walk Museum & Art Gallery, where it has become a much cherished focal point of the Victorian Gallery. The work is at risk of being sold unless COLMT are able to raise £565,000 to save it for the City of Leicester, and nation, from becoming available to the open market and private art investors. Further details of the campaign can be found at with public donations accepted via .
Tim Fowler's work is characterised by its bold and intense use of colour. This Hogarth portrait combines a multitude of media including acrylic, enamel, gloss, spray paint, ink, graffiti paints, oil sticks and marker pens. Further details of his career and art can be found at . The portrait has been generously framed by A&G Picture Framers, Maker's Yard, Leicester. £600-£1,000
